Government Printing Works
REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

HIGH ALERT: SCAM WARNING!!!

TO ALL SUPPLIERS AND SERVICE PROVIDERS OF THE GOVERNMENT PRINTING WORKS

It has come to the attention of the GOVERNMENT PRINTING WORKS that there are certain unscrupulous companies and individuals who are defrauding unsuspecting businesses disguised as representatives of the Government Printing Works (GPW).

The scam involves the fraudsters using the letterhead of GPW to send out fake tender bids to companies and requests to supply equipment and goods.

Although the contact person's name on the letter may be of an existing official, the contact details on the letter are not the same as the Government Printing Works'. When searching on the Internet for the address of the company that has sent the fake tender document, the address does not exist.

The banking details are in a private name and not company name. Government will never ask you to deposit any funds for any business transaction. GPW has alerted the relevant law enforcement authorities to investigate this scam to protect legitimate businesses as well as the name of the organisation.

Example of e-mails these fraudsters are using:

PROCUREMENT@GPW-GOV.ORG

Should you suspect that you are a victim of a scam, you must urgently contact the police and inform the GPW.

GPW has an official email with the domain as @gpw.gov.za

Government e-mails DO NOT have org in their e-mail addresses. All of these fraudsters also use the same or very similar telephone numbers. Although such number with an area code 012 looks like a landline, it is not fixed to any property.

GPW will never send you an e-mail asking you to supply equipment and goods without a purchase/order number. GPW does not procure goods for another level of Government. The organisation will not be liable for actions that result in companies or individuals being resultant victims of such a scam.

Government Printing Works gives businesses the opportunity to supply goods and services through RFQ / Tendering process. In order to be eligible to bid to provide goods and services, suppliers must be registered on the National Treasury's Central Supplier Database (CSD). To be registered, they must meet all current legislative requirements (e.g. have a valid tax clearance certificate and be in good standing with the South African Revenue Services - SARS).

The tender process is managed through the Supply Chain Management (SCM) system of the department. SCM is highly regulated to minimise the risk of fraud, and to meet objectives which include value for money, open and effective competition, equitability, accountability, fair dealing, transparency and an ethical approach. Relevant legislation, regulations, policies, guidelines and instructions can be found on the tender's website.

Fake Tenders

National Treasury's CSD has launched the Government Order Scam campaign to combat fraudulent requests for quotes (RFQs). Such fraudulent requests have resulted in innocent companies losing money. We work hard at preventing and fighting fraud, but criminal activity is always a risk.

How tender scams work

There are many types of tender scams. Here are some of the more frequent scenarios:

Fraudsters use what appears to be government department stationery with fictitious logos and contact details to send a fake RFQ to a company to invite it to urgently supply goods. Shortly after the company has submitted its quote, it receives notification that it has won the tender. The company delivers the goods to someone who poses as an official or at a fake site. The Department has no idea of this transaction made in its name. The company is then never paid and suffers a loss.

OR

Fraudsters use what appears to be government department stationery with fictitious logos and contact details to send a fake RFQ to Company A to invite it to urgently supply goods. Typically, the tender specification is so unique that only Company B (a fictitious company created by the fraudster) can supply the goods in question.

Shortly after Company A has submitted its quote it receives notification that it has won the tender. Company A orders the goods and pays a deposit to the fictitious Company B. Once Company B receives the money, it disappears. Company A's money is stolen in the process.

Protect yourself from being scammed

- If you are registered on the supplier databases and you receive a request to tender or quote that seems to be from a government department, contact the department to confirm that the request is legitimate. Do not use the contact details on the tender document as these might be fraudulent.
- Compare tender details with those that appear in the Tender Bulletin, available online at www.gpwonline.co.za
- Make sure you familiarise yourself with how government procures goods and services. Visit the tender website for more information on how to tender.
- If you are uncomfortable about the request received, consider visiting the government department and/or the place of delivery and/or the service provider from whom you will be sourcing the goods.
- In the unlikely event that you are asked for a deposit to make a bid, contact the SCM unit of the department in question to ask whether this is in fact correct.

- c. Medical Service Providers are reminded that in accordance with section 76(3)(b) of the COID Act, medical expenses may not be recovered from the employee. Providers should therefore avoid billing employees directly for services that fall within accepted COID claims.
- d. Where a change of Medical Service Providers occurs, the first treating doctor is generally regarded as the principal treating doctor, unless the case is transferred to a specialist.
- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.
- g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

	Definitions of Ambulance Patient Transfer
	Basic Life Support - A callout where the patient assessment, treatment administration, interventions undertaken and subsequent monitoring fall within the scope of practice of a registered Basic Ambulance Assistant whilst the patient is in transit. Intermediate Life Support - A callout where the patient assessment, treatment administration, interventions undertaken and subsequent monitoring fall within the scope of practice of a registered Ambulance Emergency Assistant (AEA), e.g. initiating and/or maintaining IV therapy, nebulisation etc. whilst the patient is in transit. Advanced Life Support - A callout where the patient assessment, treatment administration, interventions undertaken and subsequent monitoring fall within the scope of practice of a registered paramedic (Critical Care Assistant (CCA) and NDIP) whilst the patient is in transit. NOTES: If a hospital or doctor requires a paramedic to accompany the patient on a transfer in the event of the patient needing ALS / ILS intervention, the doctor requesting the paramedic must write a detailed motivational letter in order for ALS / ILS fees to be charged for the transfer of the patient. · In order to bill an Advanced Life Support call, a registered Advanced Life Support provider must have examined, treated and monitored the patient whilst in transit to the hospital. · In order to bill an Intermediate Life Support call, a registered Intermediate Life Support provider must have examined, treated and monitored the patient whilst in transit to the hospital. · When an ALS provider is in attendance at a callout but does not do any interventions on the patient at an ALS level, the billing should be based on a lesser level, dependent on the care given to the patient.(E.g. if a paramedic sites an IV line or nebulises the patient with a B-agonist which falls within the scope of practice of an AEA, the call is to be billed as an ILS call and not an ALS call.) · Where the management undertaken by a paramedic or AEA falls within the scope of practice of a BAA the call must be billed at a BLS level.

	Please Note · The amounts reflected in the COIDA Tariff Schedule for each level of care are inclusive of any disposables (except for pacing pads, Heimlich valves, high capacity giving sets, dial-a-flow and intra-osseous needles) and drugs used in the management of the patient, as per the attached nationally approved medication protocols. · Haemaccel and colloid solution may be charged for separately. · An ambulance is regarded by the Compensation Fund as an emergency vehicle that administers emergency care and transport to those employees with acute injuries and only such emergency care and transport will be paid for by the Compensation Fund. A medical emergency is any condition where death or irreparable harm to the patient will result if there are undue delays in receiving appropriate medical treatment. · Claims for transfers between hospitals or other service providers must be accompanied by a motivation from the attending doctor who requested such transport. The motivation should clearly state the medical reasons for the transfer. Motivation must also be provided if ILS or ALS is needed and it should be indicated what specific medical assistance is required on route. This is also applicable for air ambulances. · Transportation of an employee from his home to a service provider, this includes outpatients between two service providers, if not in an emergency situation, it is not payable. In emergency cases such transport should be motivated for and the attending doctor should indicate what specific medical assistance is required on route. . Claims for the transport of a patient discharged home will only be accepted if accompanied by a written motivation from the attending doctor who requested such transport, clearly stating the medical reasons why an ambulance is required for such transport. It should be indicated what specific medical assistance the patient requires on route. If such a request is approved only BLS fees will be payable. Transport of a patient for any other reason than a MEDICAL reason, (e.g. closer to home, do not have own transport) will not be entertained.
	DEFINITION: RESPONSE VEHICLES
1.	Response vehicles only - Advance Life Support (ALS)
	A clear distinction must be drawn between an acute primary response and a booked call.
	An Acute Primary Response is defined as a response to a call that is received for medical assistance to an employee injured at work or in a public area e.g. motor vehicle accident. If a response vehicle is dispatched to the scene of the emergency and the patient is in need of advanced life support and such support is rendered by the ALS Personnel e.g. CCA or National Diploma, the response vehicle service provider shall be entitled to bill item 131 for such service. However, the same or any other ambulance service provider which is then transporting the patient shall not be able to levy a bill as the cost of transportation is included in the ALS fee under item 131. Furthermore, the ALS response vehicle personnel must accompany the patient to the hospital to entitle the original response vehicle service provider to bill for the ALS services rendered.
2.	In the event of a response vehicle service provider rendering ALS and not having its own ambulance available in which to transport the patient to a medical facility, and makes use of another ambulance service provider, only the bill for the response vehicle service may be levied as the ALS bill under item 131. Since the ALS tariff already includes transportation, the response vehicle service provider is responsible for the bill for the other ambulance service provider, which will be levied at a BLS rate. This ensures that there is only one bill levied per patient.
3.	Should a response vehicle go to a scene and not render any ALS treatment then a bill may not be levied for the said response vehicle.
4.	Notwithstanding 3, item 151 applies to all ALS resuscitation as per the notes in this schedule.
4.1	Response vehicle only - Intermediate Life Support (ILS)
	A clear distinction must be drawn between the acute primary response and a booked call.
	An Acute Primary Response is defined as a response to a call that is received for medical assistance to an employee injured at work or in a public area e.g. motor vehicle accident. If an ILS response vehicle is dispatched to the scene of the emergency and the patient is in need of intermediate life support and such support is rendered by the ILS Personnel e.g. AEA, the response vehicle service provider shall be entitled to bill item 125 for such service. However, the same or any other ambulance service provider which is then transporting the patient shall not be able to levy a bill as the cost of transportation is included in the ILS fee under item 125. Furthermore, the ILS response vehicle personnel must accompany the patient to the hospital to entitle the original response vehicle service provider to bill for the ILS services rendered.

4.2	In the event of a response vehicle service provider rendering ILS and not having its own ambulance available in which to transport the patient to a medical facility, and makes use of another ambulance service provider, only the bill for the response vehicle service may be levied as the ILS bill under item 125. Since the ILS tariff already includes transportation, the response vehicle service provider is responsible for the bill for the other ambulance service provider, which will be levied at a BLS rate. This ensures that there is only one bill levied per patient.
4.3	Should a response vehicle go to a scene and not render any ILS treatment then a bill may not be levied for the said response vehicle.

Staff and consumables cost can only be charged if a patient was treated. 5. Should a response aircraft respond to a scene (at own risk) and not render any treatment, an invoice may not be levied for the said response. 6. Flying time is billed per minute but a minimum of 30 minutes applies to the payment. 7. A second patient is transferred at 50% reduction of the basic call and flight costs, but staff and consumables costs remain billed per patient, only if the aircraft capability allows for multiple patients. Rule 005 must be quoted on the invoice. 8. Rates are calculated according to time; from throttle open, to throttle closed. 9. Group A – C must fall within the Cat 138 Ops as determined by the Civil Aviation Authority. 10. Hot loads are restricted to 8 minutes ground time and must be indicated and billed for separately with the indicated code (time NOT to be included in actual flying time).

- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.
- g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

- Third Parties that provide administration services on behalf of medical service providers must take note of the following:
  - a. They must be able to obtain and make available copies of the original claim documents and medical invoices from medical service providers.

4. THE EMPLOYEE AND THE MEDICAL SERVICE PROVIDER

Medical Service Providers are encouraged to take note of the following guidance when treating patients in terms of the Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Diseases Act of 1993 (COID Act):

- a. Employees as defined in the COID Act of 1993, are generally free to choose their preferred Medical Service Provider, provided that such choice is exercised reasonably and without prejudice to the employee or the Compensation Fund.
  - An exception applies where an employer, with the approval of the Compensation Fund, provides comprehensive medical aid facilities to its employees, e.g. Hospital, nursing and other medical services, as contemplated in Section 78 of the COID Act, in such cases, treatment arrangements may differ.
- b. In terms of Section 42 of the COID Act, the Compensation Fund may refer an injured employee to a specialist medical service provider designated by the Director General for a medical examination and report. Medical Service providers should cooperate with such referrals where they occur.
- c. Medical Service Providers are reminded that in accordance with section 76(3)(b) of the COID Act, medical expenses may not be recovered from the employee. Providers should therefore avoid billing employees directly for services that fall within accepted COID claims.
- d. Where a change of Medical Service Providers occurs, the first treating doctor is generally regarded as the principal treating doctor, unless the case is transferred to a specialist.
- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.

Definition
Feet
SACH	The external keel of a foot prosthesis is the firm part on the bottom of the prosthesis, extending from the heel to the toe. The keel is both a structural support and a shock absorber as the patient transfers weight from heel to toe while walking. The SACH foot has a rubber heel wedge that lets the ankle move by compressing under weight bearing during the start of stance walking phase. It is available in different heel heights allowing wearing with various types of shoes.
SACH composite	Flexible keel prosthetic feet are more advanced than solid ankle cushioned heel or SACH feet. However, they do not return energy in the way a dynamic response foot would. It offers cushioning and absorption of energy but does not store and return the same amount of energy.
Single axis	An articulated single axis foot and ankle prosthesis uses a hinge to allow the ankle to dorsiflex and plantar flex, or move up and down. Single axis feet do this with a hinge in the prosthesis at about the location of the transverse tarsal joint on the human foot. Because the prosthesis moves in a single axis, specifically up and down, movement is in the sagittal plane only. Single axis feet differ from solid ankle cushion heel foot, or SACH, feet in several ways.

Multi axis	A multiaxial foot can move in multiple planes of direction, providing its user the ability to walk on uneven surfaces. This differs from a single axis foot prosthesis that allows only plantar flexion and dorsiflexion in the sagittal plane. This design allows the forefoot of the foot or ankle mechanism to move appropriately on uneven surfaces, much as a human foot would.
ESAR	The foot uses a carbon and/or nylon flexible internal keel, a firm yet flexible plate located inside the sole of the prosthesis, extending from the heel to the toe. The keel is both a structural support and a shock absorber as the patient transfers weight from heel to toe while walking. The dual spring action of the keel gives a smooth transition from heel to toe as the foot moves through a walking gait, giving additional stability and confidence to its wearer.
Active suspension	Elevated vacuum suspension which controls and reduces volume fluctuations during ambulation. The suspension is a mechanism which incorporates the foot and socket suction suspension to achieve the desired elevated vacuum.
Axial rotation	An axial rotation unit allows a prosthetic limb to twist to the right or the left, helping people walk more naturally. The axial rotation accommodate rotational forces during heel strike, mid stance, terminal stance and pre-swing. Properly functioning axial rotation devices allow a socket to relieve pressure on the stump as the patient moves.
Low profile	Decreased build height which accommodates longer residual limbs with limited ground clearance
ESAR - multi axial	A multiaxial foot primarily manufactured out of carbon fiber which can move in multiple planes of direction, providing its user the ability to walk on uneven surfaces. This design allows the forefoot of the foot or ankle mechanism to move appropriately on uneven surfaces, much as a human foot would.
Carbon pylon	One end of the pylon directly fits into the residual limb socket, and the other end fits into the prosthetic foot. The aim of the prosthetic pylon is to store and release energy additional energy to the user. The pylon also acts as a shock absorber.
Heel adjustable	This code describes prosthetic foot with a heel height that the patient can adjust to the desired angle. Not only does this benefit a patient cosmetically by allowing adjustment to the prosthetic heel to the shoe heel height, but it can also help foot balance and support the knee, improving the patient's gait.
ESAR multi composite	The foot uses nylon, glass fibre or other composites with flexible internal keel, a firm yet flexible plate located inside the sole of the prosthesis, extending from the heel to the toe. The keel is both a structural support and a shock absorber as the patient transfers weight from heel to toe while walking. The dual spring action of the keel gives a smooth transition from heel to toe as the foot moves through a walking gait, giving additional stability and confidence to its wearer.
Knee
Locking	Unit is locked stiff at the knee unit when in use. The knee will not bend until a release mechanism is operated to free the knee lock
Friction controlled	Prosthetic knee unit which is controlled with friction functions within the unit
Pneumatic controlled	Prosthetic knee unit which is controlled with pneumatic functions within the unit
Hydraulic controlled	Prosthetic knee unit which is controlled with hydraulic functions within the unit
Pneumatic + electronic motor control	Multifaceted knee unit which consists of pneumatic chambers and externally powered to control the functioning of the unit
Hydraulic + electronic motor control	Multifaceted knee unit which consists of hydraulic chambers and externally powered to control the functioning of the unit
Single axis (Monocentric)	During the flexion/extension the prosthetic knee articulate rotationally around one knee axis
4-Bar linkage	During the flexion/extension the prosthetic knee articulate rotationally around four knee axis
Multi axis (Polycentric)	During the flexion/extension the prosthetic knee articulate rotationally around multiple knee axis
Hip
Polycentric hydraulic hip joint	Multi-axis joint structure which produces three-dimensional hip movement through a hydraulic unit to compensate for pelvic rotation and promote a symmetrical, natural gait
Monocentric hydraulic hip joint	Single-axis joint structure which produces three-dimensional hip movement through a hydraulic unit to compensate for pelvic rotation and promote a symmetrical, natural gait
Extension assist hip joint	Single axis joint with possibility to adjust abduction/adduction, flexion/extension, and rotation to support natural gait
Single axis locking hip joint	Built-in manual lock which automatically engages in full extension to add stability and can be manually disengaged for sitting
Single axis elastic extension assist hip joint	Extension assist with laterally attached latex bands help with stride control, with adjustable built-in extension stop bumper

Liners
Locking liner	Interface which acts between the residual limb and socket where the liner has a distal pin attachment area
Suction liner	Interface which acts between the residual limb and socket where the liner incorporates a seal-off area which creates suction suspension
Cushion liner	Interface which acts between the residual limb and socket. This is worn in conjunction with a knee sleeve
Knee sleeve	Sleeve worn over the prosthetic socket to create a seal between residual limb and prosthetic socket
Hybrid liner	Liner incorporating locking and suction suspension in one
Adjustable suction (includes ring and liner)	Suction liner which has the ability to adjust the area of suction depending on residual limb volume fluctuations
Distal volume cup	Item used for conical and/or sensitive residual limbs requiring volume build-up
Suspension components
Hybrid lock	A combination suspension solution incorporating locking suspension with the benefits of vacuum suspension.
Active vacuum	Vacuum system that pulls vacuum in the socket using the energy created by stance and swing phase or from heel strike
Expulsion valve kit	Direct integrated system to create suction suspension via a valve setup within the lower limb socket
TF proximal socket seal-in ring for suction suspension	Sealing ring for use with TF suction vacuum sockets. Ring can be positioned manually to maximize area of the limb under suction or vacuum
Plug fit suction valve	Flat rubber valve manually donned in socket to created vacuum suspension
Pull in pvc tube	Tube breaching the gap between the socket and plug fit valve
Shuttle lock (pin/lanyard)	A pin or lanyard which attaches on the bottom of a liner which goes to a female receiver that is fixed within the prosthetic socket.
Magnetic locking system	A magnetic pin which attaches on the bottom of a liner which goes to a integrated magnetic female receiver that is fixed within the prosthetic socket.
Kiss locking system	Shuttle lanyard system for transfemoral amputees through housing receiver that is fixed within the prosthetic socket.

- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.
- g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.
- g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

Medical Service Providers are encouraged to take note of the following guidance when treating patients in terms of the Compensation for Occupational Injuries and Diseases Act of 1993 (COID Act):

- a. Employees as defined in the COID Act of 1993, are generally free to choose their preferred Medical Service Provider, provided that such choice is exercised reasonably and without prejudice to the employee or the Compensation Fund.
  - An exception applies where an employer, with the approval of the Compensation Fund, provides comprehensive medical aid facilities to its employees, e.g. Hospital, nursing and other medical services, as contemplated in Section 78 of the COID Act, in such cases, treatment arrangements may differ.
- b. In terms of Section 42 of the COID Act, the Compensation Fund may refer an injured employee to a specialist medical service provider designated by the Director General for a medical examination and report. Medical Service providers should cooperate with such referrals where they occur.
- c. Medical Service Providers are reminded that in accordance with section 76(3)(b) of the COID Act, medical expenses may not be recovered from the employee. Providers should therefore avoid billing employees directly for services that fall within accepted COID claims.
- d. Where a change of Medical Service Providers occurs, the first treating doctor is generally regarded as the principal treating doctor, unless the case is transferred to a specialist.
- e. To promote continuity of care and avoid disputes, Medical Service Providers are encouraged not to treat an employee who is already under the care of another practitioner without first consulting or informing the principal treating doctor.
- f. Any changes of medical service providers should be supported by sufficient reasons, and such reasons should be communicated to the Compensation Fund to ensure clarity and proper case management.
- g. In line to section 5 of the National Health Act no 61 of 2003, a health care provider may not refuse a person emergency medical treatment. In emergency situations, Medical Service Providers are not required to obtain prior authorisation from the Compensation Fund before rendering such treatment even if the claim has not yet been registered or accepted.

ZUID-AFRIKAANSCHE BOER REPUBLIEKE – MEDIAVERKLARING KENNISGEWING VAN BOERVOLK STATUSKORREKSIE AAN UNPFII

KENNISGEWING AAN PRINSIPAAL IS KENNISGEWING AAN AGENT
KENNISGEWING AAN AGENT IS KENNISGEWING AAN PRINSIPAAL
ALLE REGTE VOORBEHOU

Aan: Die Boervolk, die President van Suid-Afrika, lede van die Suid-Afrikaanse Regering, wêreldleiers, politieke partye, belanghebbende partye, en alle ander betrokkenes: Neem asseblief kennis dat —

Die Tydelike Adviesraad, namens die lewende Boervolk wat gesamentlik verenig is onder die Zuid-Afrikaansche Boervolk (ZAB) en bestuur word deur die Zuid-Afrikaansche Boer Republieke (ZABR), gee hiermee kennis van ons indiening aan die Verenigde Nasies se Permanente Forum oor Inheemse Sake (UNPFII) op 26 Februarie 2026. Hierdie stap, geneem in vrede en onder leiding van die Almagtige Hemelse Vader, is 'n kennisgewing vir die herstel van rekord aan die UNPFII deur die ZABR.

Verklaring: Die Zuid-Afrikaansche Boervolk verklaar hiermee formeel dat die Boervolk 'n inheemse en afgesonderde volk IS, in ooreenstemming met die Verenigde Nasies se Verklaring oor die Regte van Inheemse Volke (UNDRIP, 2007). Hierdie indiening is bloot 'n kennisgewing vir herstel van rekord, waardeur historiese verkeerde klassifikasie, koloniale onderwerping en gedwonge assimilasie reggestel word. Die ZAB verwerp enige onderwerping aan eksterne jurisdiksie en eis haar inherente reg op self-identifikasie, selfbeskikking en kulturele beskerming, sonder om enige regte te benadeel.

Agtergrond: Die ZAB se Deklarasie van Onafhanklikheid van "100 Man" (12 Julie 2025) verskaf die kollektiewe mandaat van die Boervolk aan die ZABR, verteenwoordigend vanuit die historiese Boer republieke, terwyl die Boer Verklaring van die ZAB, hierdie beginsels en doelwitte uiteensit.

Kernpunte:

1. Die indiening is 'n vreedsame statuskorreksie, nie 'n petisie vir toestemming nie, en verwerp enige voorlegging aan eksterne jurisdiksie. Dit fokus op die Boervolk se inherente reg op self-identifikasie, selfbeskikking en kulturele beskerming, met erkenning van gelyke regte van volke soos deur die VN beklemtoon. Die feite en geskiedenis spreek vir hulself – No Case to Answer.

2. Sedert die onwettige Britse anneksasie van die Kaap (1795, 1806), Natal (12 Mei 1843) en uiteindelik die van alle historiese Boer republieke op 31 Mei 1902, is die Boervolk van haar identiteit, eiendom en regte ontneem. Die Verdrag van Vereeniging was 'n gedwonge oorgawe, nie 'n oorwinning nie. Daarna, in 1910, het die Britse Ryk sy kunsmatige entiteit, die Unie van Suid-Afrika, op die Boervolk afgedwing, wat verskeie nasies in een land saamgevoeg het. Die onwettige Britse anneksasie sedert 1795 en geen verdragte of ooreenkomste sedert 1902 word erken nie. Hierdie voorlegging korrigeer historiese onregte en administratiewe onderdrukking, sowel as assimilasie, integrasie en verdunning met ander groepe. Soos beslis in die Richtersveld-saak (2003), vernietig koloniale (onwettige) anneksasie nie hierdie inheemse volkereg nie – 'n beginsel wat die Boervolk se historiese grondregte ondersteun en die ongeldigheid van alle ooreenkomste ná 1902 bevestig.

3. Die submissie beklemtoon historiese onregte en wandade gepleeg asook hedendaagse marginalisering en bedreigings en doen ‘n beroep vir vreedsame erkenning. Dit beklemtoon ook die feit dat die Boervolk reeds internasionaal as 'n soewereine volk erken is (1841, 1852, 1854), haar erkende administrasie, republieke, posseëls en eie geldeenheid.

4. Die ZABR eis selfbeskikking vir alle historiese Boer republieke kollektief, met 'n teokraties-sosialistiese Grondwet wat gegrond is op die volle Woord van die Almagtige Hemelse Vader. Die ZABR erken dat die Boervolk se unieke identiteit, volkereg en Geloftes, bestaan a.g.v. haar vertroue in Hom as die bron van haar bestaan en kultuur as 'n afgesonderde volk, en nie deur mensgemaakte strukture, instellings of statute nie.

5. Verder meer verklaar die Zuid-Afrikaansche Boervolk dat sy weer vir haar Almagtige Hemelse Vader 'n volk wil wees en daarna streef om terug te keer na Sy wil en waarheid waarvan die volk afgedwaal het. Die Zuid-Afrikaansche Boervolk besef en erken dat haar redding van geen mens, groep, organisasie of regering sal kom nie maar slegs van haar Hemelse Vader alleen. Dus word daar slegs voor Hom gepleit vir haar vryheid, soewereiniteit en selfbeskikking, sonder konflik.

Oproep: Ons nooi Boer volksgenote uit om die submissie op ons webwerf te lees en in eenheid u plek in ons Volkshuis op te neem. Die ZABR verwelkom alle volksgenote wat die Almagtige se Woord as die enigste Gesag aanvaar en bydra tot geregtigheid en die Boervolk se vryheid. Vir meer inligting, besoek gerus www.zaboervolk.com of kontak zab@zaboervolk.com. Die Zuid-Afrikaansche Boervolk is bevoeg om haar eie sake self te hanteer.
